

Library Mascot:
Fitzgeraldo

CHECK US OUT

LIBRARY SETS UP SHOP IN SGPP FACULTY PORTAL BY JANE LITTLEFIELD

Volume 1, Issue 1, May 12, 2008

Exciting news, library lovers! To better serve Saint Mary's University, TC Library expanded its online presence into the SGPP Adjunct Faculty Blackboard Portal. In short, the Portal is an online gathering of information for SGPP instructors. Adjunct faculty members can now easily find out about TC Library's services, staff, technology, and idiosyncrasies every time they log into Blackboard. When faculty members select the red tab labeled SGPP Library (see below), they are taken to a page filled with wondrous information geared specifically towards their needs as instructors. The "trickle-down effect" will benefit students, as instructors will use their newly gained library literacy to arrange in-class library and research instruction, request material, share resources, and more. Brilliant!

Spotlight: Librarians in the Media

BARBARA GORDON, librarian by day—crime fighting Batgirl by night

WRITING CENTER & LIBRARY COURSES HEAT UP THIS SUMMER BY RACHEL MCGEE

TC Writing Center and Library tailored several summer courses to improve Saint Mary's University student writing and research skills. For students with limited time and a penchant for a good bargain, the workshop, SSVC 100 Workshop: Introduction to APA Style for graduate writers, introduces the mysteries of the APA citation style at a steal for $40 a pop. SSVC 510 Fluency in Academic Writing & SSVC 520 Processes of Research and Research Writing school students in the writing style and research skills required at a graduate level.

Dying to find out what best motivates employees but don't know where to start searching? Wondering if Wikipedia can be used in a research paper? GM610 Information & Research: Resources, Strategies, and Issues makes research a snap, teaching students the fundamentals of searching and evaluating resources specific to the management discipline.

LIBRARY/WRITING CENTER SUMMER COURSES:

- GM610 Information & Research: Resources, Strategies, and Issues
- SSVC 100 Introduction to APA Style for Graduate Writers
- SSVC 510 Fluency in Academic Writing
- SSVC 520 Processes of Research and Research Writing

HERE'S...ANNA! BY NYKOL JOHNSON

The library is thrilled to announce the employ of Anna Drennen, our new Interlibrary Loan Assistant! With a Masters of T.E.S.O.L., Anna's work/educational background in English as a Second Language has already proven an asset to the team. Unfortunate for the teaching field but lucky for us librarians, Anna recently left her job as a teacher to pursue a fun-filled career as a librarian.

Outside of her thrilling 9-1 library life, Anna listens to the vocal stylings of her two hounds, Clyde and Lucy. Anna also enjoys trying new and unusual restaurants, baking cupcakes, and supporting community education classes.

Anna Drennen, new Interlibrary Loan Assistant, is very patient with her co-workers.

Stop by sometime and say hi to Anna! Suggest an unusual restaurant for her to try out or challenge her with an obscure Interlibrary Loan request. Oh yeah and Anna likes to read and knit.